

QUIZ - 25

(1.) What is the purpose of media queries in CSS?

Ans. To style elements based on the size of the viewport
To style elements based on the color scheme of the device
To style elements based on the orientation of the device
All of the above

(2.) How do you use media queries in CSS?

Ans. By using the @media rule
By using the @import rule
By using the @include rule
By using the @extend rule

(3.) What is the syntax of a media query in CSS?

Ans. @media (condition) { ... }
@import (condition) { ... }
@include (condition) { ... }
@extend (condition) { ... }

(4.) What is the condition in a media query in CSS?

Ans. The size of the viewport
The type of device
The orientation of the device
All of the above

(5.) For a Mobile first design approach, we use

Ans. @media (min-width) {}
@media (max-width) {}
@media (mobile-first) {}
None of the above

(6.) For a Desktop first design approach, we use

Ans. @media (min-width) {}
@media (max-width) {}
@media (mobile-first) {}
None of the above

(7.) To apply CSS according to the color scheme we use

Ans. @media (prefers-color-scheme) {}
@media (prefers-dark-mode) {}
@media (prefers-light-mode) {}
None of the above